

VALLEY RELICS
A MUSEUM OF LOCAL POP CULTURE
SATURDAY, JULY 18, 2020

Another new venue has been found for a visit by MOCC. After many years in Chatsworth, the Valley Relics Museum relocated to a new building adjacent to Van Nuys Airport. It is a fun journey through the past of the San Fernando Valley and surrounding areas. The museum features one of a kind pop culture with items such as neon signs, classic cars, rare documents, restaurant menus, art, western clothing and much more. A docent will lead us through the museum. The plan is to meet at the museum at 11:00 a.m. when they open.

The address is: 7900 Balboa Boulevard, Lake Balboa, California 91406
Hangars C3 & C4 (enter on Stagg Street)

The admission for the docent led tour is $10.00 for adults and $8.00 for seniors. Have your payment ready when you arrive. We need 15 people in order to have a docent led tour. Following the tour we will take a short ride to the other side of the airport for lunch at the 94th Aero Squadron. It borders the runway and you can watch the planes land and take off.
